HARRIMAN IS RESTING IN HIS LOFTY HOME AT ARDEN

Shielded From Cares, With Visitors Barred,

NEW YORK, August 25.—Two thousand feet above the sea-level, at his country estate, near Arden, N. Y., Edward H. Harriman is resting in sociusion to-night. Shelded from business cares, barred from visitors, practically isolated in his mountain home, he disappeared from the public even in a manner no less dramatic than his display of grit upon his arrival from Europe yesterday. With the click, click of the automatic rallway that bore him, seated in an automobile.

Then the curtain dropped, and news of E. H. Harriman almost ceased.

It was learned to neight that there was no change in his condition. But asside from this, he is as far away from the American public as he was as as Bad Gastein, Austria, with the Atlanic Ocean between.

All reports concerning Mr. Harriman's health, his associates made known to-day, are to come from his offices in this city. Mr. Harriman has efficien in the truets ense of the word for his "after cure," and nothing is to disturb him.

Just as the country eagerly read the cables from abroad concerning the facility of the cables from abroad concerning the facility, and has since advanced him rapid-ty, or, at least made the bounch of son the saltimore, and other Property in View, and the restinguish of the Harriman took over this road, he best known newspaper men in the legal field of rallroadom in 1838 to the sountry eagerly read the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the sountry eagerly read the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the sountry eagerly read the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the sountry eagerly read the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the face of the word for his "after cure," and nothing its of the face of th

By Saturday, at the latest, the Burk building will be vacated.

The improvements will include the construction of a building of about the same size as the present bank quarters, and the only change, as far as height is concerned, will be the improvements on the top, where two stories will be added, with an ornamental cornice to replace the plain brickwork. The cost will be about $200,000. The construction of the American Bank annex is one of the many operations that will be in progress during the winter.
